I understand it was a gold and silver mine.

As of today our staffing is:
32 EPA in Denver EOC
1 contractor in Denver EOC

6 EPA in field around Durango
15 contractors in field (4-START, 5-ERRS, 6-ESAT)

Not sure of NM other than 1 OSC from R6 and a couple START contractors. R6 should know.

Data results just coming in as we speak this afternoon. We are working on processing the data and will post it as soon as we have it available.

I do not know sample numbers nor locations but we are putting them on the viewer as we process the information.

Note: Our initial 1 million gallon release may be underestimated and were working that to determine a more accurate number.

Also, we are hearing that private drinking water wells are showing discolored yellowish water. We have not confirmed this nor verified and extent but will be looking into this.

That's about what I know for now.
